2017-2018 Interim Chair, Department of Psychology, University of Florida (UF). 32 faculty including tenured/tenure-track and non-tenure track, 7 Administrative Staff, ~100 full-time graduate students, ~1600 undergraduate majors. Responsible for administration of all aspects of the department during a one-year interim period. Highlights from Interim year include:

- Oversaw faculty development and advancement
 - Coordinated department review of 5 cases for different types of promotion and/or tenure
 - Worked with affiliated faculty on development promotion guidelines for their faculty
- Oversaw faculty hiring and retention
 - Successfully hired 2 Tenure-track, Assistant Professors
 - Successfully hired 3 non-tenure track faculty
- Fundraising for the Department
 - In collaboration with CLAS Dean's and advancement office, working on several initiatives for gifts to the department. ~$1,150,000 in new endowments and non-endowed gifts were received in the 2017/18 Academic Year.

2013-2017 Graduate Coordinator, Department of Psychology, UF. ~100 graduate students in five areas of Psychology. Significant accomplishments include:

- New funding mechanism for graduate travel and research. Worked with Department Chair (2013-14) on establishing and distributing $50,000 in new donation fund for enhancing graduate training. Fund was continued for a second round (additional $50,000).
- Developed and implemented electronic processing for graduate awards resulting in substantial reduction in staff time.
- Implemented and refined systems for annual assessment of Program Goals and Student Learning Outcomes compliant with accreditation protocols; responsible for reporting on all department graduate degree programs.
- Initiated new professional development and research training activities for first year graduate students including development of writing skills, strategies for publication, ethical guidelines for authorship, and ethical conduct of research.
- Chair, the Graduate Studies Committee. Responsible for program regulations, including updating and adapting regulations to be consistent with university regulations as institutional policies changed as well as in line with trends in the field of Psychology; selecting nominees/awardees for department, college, and university awards; and adjudicating graduate student grievances.
- Chair, Department Admissions Committee. Disseminate information on applications and admissions process; coordinate graduate admissions selection and funding award types across the five areas of Psychology in the department.

- Worked with UF Graduate School to secure competitive funding packages for recruitment and retention of top minority and first-generation college student applicants to our doctoral training program.
- Serve on Department's Policy and Planning Committee.

2007-2013 Associate Chair, Department of Psychology, UF.

- Engaged in strategic planning with the Chair on departmental budgets, personnel issues, administrative staffing, new faculty hiring initiatives, planning course schedules, and related department activities. Of note, in this team process, we
 - Revised tenure and promotion guidelines for the department.
 - Developed and implemented new protocols for mentoring pre-tenure faculty.
 - Initiated a new program for instructional training for graduate instructors; I chaired the search committee charged with hiring the lecturer who directs the program.
 - Increased on-line course offerings resulting in new revenue stream for graduate assistantships.
- Regularly served as acting chair. This included representing the department at college meetings, establishing ad-hoc committees, and conducting all daily administrative duties of the chair.
- Founding Chair, Goldman Fellowship Awards Committee: worked with the Department Chair, University Advancement Office, and estate executor in establishing the graduate training awards that would be distributed under this endowment ($2M) and chaired the awards committee
- Chair, the Constitution and By-laws Committee. Charged with updating the department constitution
- Co-Chair, 2nd and 3rd Biennial Gierach Symposia on Psychology of Politics: Perspectives on Health Policy in America (2012) and Health Disparities and Gender (2014). Working with the donors, college development office and other departments, recruited keynote speakers, planned events, worked with colleagues to identify panel members and supervised administrative support staff assisting with the event

2007- 2016 Developmental Area Director, Department of Psychology, UF.

- Direct the graduate training program in Developmental Psychology. This position includes monitoring graduate student progress in the area, writing evaluation letters, establishing ad-hoc committees for selection of annual awards to doctoral students, and coordinating professional development activities for graduate students.
- Conduct area-related administrative tasks including planning course schedules and teaching assignments for area courses, leading strategic planning for the area, and chairing area faculty meetings. This position also serves as a conduit for information between the area and the Department's Policy and Planning Committee.
- Chair, Early-Career Faculty Mentor Committees for two pre-tenure faculty. The committee assists new faculty in navigating their assigned teaching, research, and service duties and evaluates their progress. As chair, I have provided feedback on grant applications (one subsequently funded by NIH), regularly observed teaching activities, met individually to engage in problem-solving and career planning, and most recently identified external reviews for tenure and promotion packets and presented the candidate's packets to the department faculty.

1994-2001 Associate Director, National Center for Children & Families (NCCF), Teachers College, Columbia University. NCCF is a fully externally funded policy-research center.

- Handled day-to-day coordination of research and financial activities at the center supervising an administrative assistant, a grants manager plus research program staff, and mentored research scientists. Established efficient internal administrative procedures and coordinated with college grants and contracts office, as well as coordinated space, renovation, and equipment changes to accommodate new grants and projects.

1993-2001 Founding Director of Graduate Training, NCCF, Teachers College, Columbia University.

- I established and coordinated a graduate training program that spanned across projects ensuring that students had similar opportunities for research training, opportunities for collaborative publications, and guidance for their own projects; student enrollment expanded from 3-4 students at inception to 20 full-time doctoral students and 10-15 Masters students and 3-5 undergraduate and high school interns by 2001.

RESEARCH SUPPORT

Current

Student Mental Health Initiative. PI: J. A. Grabner. Provost Initiative Funding. 7/15/2021-6/30/2024 ($165,500 Annual Costs; $496,500 Total Costs). Utilize evidence-based approaches and environmental assessment data to develop strategies to prevent adverse mental health outcomes in students. We aim to center the needs of students of minoritized identities while improving outcomes for all students.

Completed

Personal Responsibility Education Program (PREP). Subcontract PI: J. A. Grabner. (Heartland Rural Health Network, Inc., funded agency). Administration on Children, Youth and Families, DHHS. 9/30/21-9/29/24; ended after Year 1. ($396,213 Total Costs: $276,148 Total Direct Costs & $120,065 in modified F&A at UF). Continued and expanded collaborative work with goal to decrease the teen birth rate and decrease the STI rate for 10–19-year-old youth in two rural counties in Florida. UF contract provided process and outcome evaluation of the initiative.

Personal Responsibility Education Program (PREP). Subcontract PI: J. A. Grabner. (Heartland Rural Health Network, Inc., funded agency). Administration on Children, Youth and Families, DHHS. 9/30/15-9/29/18. ($154,500 Total Costs: $104,485 Total Direct Costs & $50,015 in modified F&A at UF); funding continued with new annual awards through 9/29/2021, resulting in 6-year total funds of $309,000 in Total Costs. This 6-year project had the goal to decrease the teen birth rate by 5% and decrease the STI rate by 5% for 10–19-year-old youth, create positive changes in participant's attitudes, beliefs, knowledge, awareness, and behavioral intentions about adolescent pregnancy via evidence-based teen pregnancy prevention (TPP) education annually in a rural county in Florida. UF contract provided process and outcome evaluation of the initiative.

Estrogen and Brain Development: Outcomes for girls with CPP. Mentor: J. A. Grabner. PI: Sarah Lynne (Landsman). NIH/NCATS UL1 TR000064. University of Florida Clinical and Translational Science Institute. 8/1/2014-1/31/16 (4 month no-cost extension). This pilot project examined the neural and psychological impact of Gonadotropin Releasing Hormone agonist therapy in a comparison study of untreated and treated girls with idiopathic central precocious puberty and girls with typical pubertal development.

Rural CAFE for Youth 12-18. Subcontract PI: J. A. Grabner (Heartland Rural Health Network, Inc., Funded Agency). Administration for Children and Families, DHHS. 9/30/08-9/29/10. ($112,294 Direct Costs in Subcontract). Under this initiative, community agencies received funding to conduct and evaluate community-based life skills programs targeting sexual behaviors and healthy relationships. The subcontract covered the evaluation component of the project.

2008 Provost E-learning Initiative. PI: J. A. Grabner. University of Florida Provost Funds. 5/7/08 – 5/4/09. ($30,000 total funds).

The goal of this project was to develop and launch a fully online version of DEP3053, Developmental Psychology, at the University of Florida.

Gender Specific and Common Pathways to Drug Use. Sponsor: J. A. Grabner. (PI: Lynne). NRSA Program, NIH/National Institute on Drug Abuse. 1/1/07 – 6/30/08.

This training project provided integrated statistical and prevention research training and support for conducting research on longitudinal pathways to substance use among urban, minority adolescents. Specific attention focused on the role of gender in determining pathways to aggression and delinquency.

Drug Abuse and Girls: A Mother-Daughter Intervention. Co-Investigator: J. A. Graber. (PI: Schinke). Funded by NIH/NIDA. 4/1/05 – 3/3/10. Investigator role completed in 2007. The major goals of this project were to develop a family-based girl-specific intervention (GSI) to prevent substance abuse.

Multi-Ethnic Drug Abuse Prevention Among New York Youth (bridge funding). Co-Investigator: J. A. Graber (PI: Botvin). Funded by NIH/NIDA. 9/30/04 – 8/31/05

The Multi-Ethnic Drug Abuse Prevention Research Center represents an integrated group of individual research projects designed to collectively address the need for efficacious preventive interventions for African American and Hispanic American youth.

Contextual, Behavioral & Physiological Processes in Boys. Co-PI: J. A. Graber. (PI: Brooks-Gunn). Funded by the National Institute of Mental Health. 7/99 - 6/04, no cost extension through 6/05. This 5-year, longitudinal project investigated the biological correlates of boys' social and emotional development during middle childhood and the beginning of puberty. The project followed 130 boys (and their families) during the transition into adolescence. Stress reactivity, hormonal changes, and family interactions were examined.

Victimization and Mental Health among High-risk Youths. Consultant: J. A. Graber. (PI: D'Augelli). Funded by the National Institute of Mental Health. 1/99-12/04. Consultant on retrospective assessments of puberty and young adult transitions.

Adolescent HIV Risk-Social Settings & Prevention Issues. Co-Investigator: J. A. Graber. (PI: Krauss) Funded by the National Institute of Mental Health. 11/01 – 10/04. Member of expert panel conducting research with adolescents about the context of their sexual experiences.

Website-Based Training in Drug Prevention. Consultant: J. A. Graber, PI: L. Dusenbury. Funded by the National Institute on Drug Abuse. 11/01- 10/03. Assisted in tailoring the materials for different grade levels.

Assessing the Role of Cognitive-Behavioral Skills on ATOB Use. Co-PI: J. A. Graber. (PI: Botvin). Funded by the National Institute on Drug Abuse. 9/97 - 8/02.

As part of a larger, Multi-Ethnic Drug Abuse Prevention Center, this project focused on etiology of drug abuse and aggression and mediating mechanisms in prevention of drug abuse and violence with inner-city minority students. 400 adolescents were seen annually from 6th - 8th grades and were assessed via survey and video-taped interactive protocols.

Contextual, Behavioral & Physiological Processes in Girls. Co-PI: J. A. Graber. (PI: Brooks-Gunn). Funded by the National Institute of Child Health and Human Development. 9/94 - 8/00.

This 4-year, longitudinal project investigated the biological correlates of social and emotional development during middle childhood and the beginning of puberty. The project followed 140 girls (and their families) as they made the transition into adolescence. Stress reactivity, hormonal changes, and family interactions were examined.

Nutrition & Behavior in Adolescent Girls. Co-PI: J. A. Graber. (PI: Brooks-Gunn). Funded by the National Institute of Child Health and Human Development. 8/93 - 7/95.

This project followed a sample of 200 girls (and their mothers) seen in young and mid-adolescence, and young adulthood to investigate the development of emotional and eating problems from adolescence into young adulthood.

The Influence of Educational Context on Life and Career Aspirations: A Longitudinal Investigation. PI: J. A. Graber. Funded by the Women's College Coalition. 9/93 - 8/94.

This project examined the influence of different educational contexts on girls' achievement, career aspirations, life goals, self-esteem and psychological over an 8-year period.

*A list of unfunded applications is available upon request.

RESEARCH CONSULTATION

- "Happy to be Me" Project.* Consultant: J. A. Graber, PI: W. Doswell. NYC Health & Hospitals Corporation. 2/92. Consulted on measurement strategies in an investigation of puberty and body image among African-American girls.
- Development of Conduct Disorder in Girls.* Consultant: J. A. Graber, PI: R. Loeber. Funded by the National Institute of Mental Health. 11/98-1/00. Consulted on assessment of puberty and related topics for girls in late childhood and early adolescence.
- Building Better Bodies.* Co-Investigator: J. A. Graber. Collaborative initiative with Asphalt Green. 6/98-6/99. Development of a program to improve girls' health and fitness related knowledge and behavior. Program was implemented with African American and Latina girls in grades 7-10.
- Tobacco Use Prevention Among Girls.* Co-Investigator: J. A. Graber. 4/00-4/01. Assisted in the development of a pilot program targeting tobacco use prevention in middle-school age girls for a not-for-profit organization that conducts community-based prevention programming.
